Brand new 1 Bedroom Apartment For Sale in Bangkok in Khet Huai Khwang, Bangkok

Siamese Rama 9 is a brand new project in Bangkok, located close to the heart of Bangkok's new Central Business District.

Innovatively designed, styled and furnished upon completion, this new development will be comprised of three individual buildings offering a total of 60 commercial units, 61 office units and an astounding 1,980 residential units. Resulting in the biggest real estate enterprise currently in development under the Siamese Asset.

The overall design came from a combination of ideas from the leading designers in 3 different countries; Singapore, Hong Kong and Thailand. The architecture has been designed to offer a unique concept by integrating advanced technology to create a superior lifestyle whilst providing a rewarding value for every investment.

Each room has its own style and feel which has been inspired from the distinctive atmosphere of major cities within 5 different countries: Bangkok, Tokyo, Stockholm, Paris and New York.

All units will offer an air-circulation system found within the living room, low E heat reflecting glass which will prevent heat radiation from outside the building - helping to keep it cool while reducing energy consumption. There will be soundproof doors and insulated walls that will absorb sound, also helping to reduce any noise from outside.
